RACHEL MILLER JOINS CAPITOL SOLUTIONS® AS VICE PRESIDENT, ENERGY AND ENVIRONMENT PRACTICE

Firm Adds Energy and Environment Expertise as It Marks 10th Anniversary

(Washington, DC) – As it celebrates its first decade in business, Capitol Solutions announced today that Capitol Hill veteran and former corporate lobbyist Rachel D. Miller has joined the firm as Vice President, Energy and Environment Practice.

“We’re excited that Rachel Miller has joined the firm,” said Capitol Solutions founder David Taylor. “And we are confident that all of our clients will benefit from Rachel’s experience—in the House, in the Senate and in the private sector. It is no secret that energy and environment issues are high on the agenda for President-elect Obama and the 111th Congress.”

“Our complementary backgrounds offer Capitol Solutions clients unique insights and opportunities in this new political environment,” added Dan Tate Jr. “Climate change and alternative energy issues will impact industries and consumers across the economy. Rachel is well-respected among House and Senate Democrats and members of the incoming Administration both for her policy expertise and for her ability to get things done.”

Rachel D. Miller brings a decade of Capitol Hill and corporate lobbying experience to the firm. For the past two years, Ms. Miller served as Director of Federal Affairs for BP America where she focused on mandatory climate change and low-carbon power issues. Before joining BP, she served as a Legislative Assistant to Senator Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) on energy, transportation and agriculture issues. Miller was actively involved in Feinstein’s initiatives to increase vehicle fuel economy standards, improve energy market transparency, and promote energy efficiency. She played an active role on the Energy Policy Act of 2005 and the 2005 Transportation Reauthorization bill. Ms. Miller’s Capitol Hill career began as a Legislative Assistant for Congressman Eliot Engel (D-NY).

“Dan Tate, David Taylor and the team at Capitol Solutions have a great reputation on Capitol Hill and in the private sector,” said Miller. “They are knowledgeable, substantive, experienced, and they know how to produce results. I’m excited to join the Capitol Solutions team and play a key role in expanding the firm’s energy and environment practice.”

Formed in 1998, Capitol Solutions is a bipartisan lobbying firm led by Dan Tate Jr., former Special Assistant for White House Legislative Affairs and Deputy Assistant Secretary for Legislative Affairs at the Department of Energy in the Clinton Administration, and David Taylor, former advisor to Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole (R-KS) and Associate Director of OMB in the George H.W. Bush Administration. For more information on the firm, visit our website at www.capitolsolutions.com.
